Cindy Crimmin, Ph.D. began her career as a bilingual teacher in Boston, and has taught ELL and Spanish from early elementary to high school Advanced Placement. Her strong interest in curricular design and in improving teaching and learning prompted her to complete a Ph. D. in Ed Admin at Boston College. From there, she worked in curriculum leadership and served as an elementary principal in Watertown and Weston. In each role, Cindy saw herself primarily as a teacher. She is an ESE approved SEI instructor for both the teacher and administrator programs.
