An Update from Executive Director Robert Baldwin

Massachusetts Interscholastic Athletic Association

February 2, 2023

Massachusetts Interscholastic Athletic Council (MIAC) Constitutional Revision

The Massachusetts Interscholastic Athletic Association's (MIAA) Organizational Analysis and the Executive Director's Plan for Growth and Improvement were presented and approved at two consecutive Board of Directors meetings in 2022 (February and March). This proactive undertaking to implement several reforms are consistent with my conclusion that "the status quo is not an option."

In our attempt to move forward, one of the major objectives for growth and improvement is a governance initiative. One of the key actions of this initiative is to develop an organizational structure of oversight and support that is legally sound and fiscally responsible.

The goal of this process is to provide greater clarity and consistency to the membership. The execution of this plan entails constitutional revisions of the MIAA and the Massachusetts Interscholastic Athletic Council (MIAC). The process for constitutional change at the MIAA is that the Board of Directors can recommend revision, and the Assembly is ultimately responsible for voting constitutional revisions. The MIAC was created in 1950. Its constitution is separate and independent of the MIAA constitution. As a result, the MIAC would need to vote to approve its own constitutional revision.

Our collective goal within this governance initiative is to codify systems and processes that provide clear roles and responsibilities that lead to consistent implementation for the membership. On January 25, 2023 an MIAC/MIAA Working Group was convened to discuss how to delineate clear lines of absolute and advisory authority in order to best serve the membership.

The proposal was to validate the vast majority of the work throughout the year(s) by re-defining the role of the MIAC. The re-purposing of their role would create consistency throughout the Association. This proposal would allow the MIAC to continue to be at the table where the vast majority of our appeals exist. The area of student eligibility is a significant role in the Association.

The eligibility processes were validated by the Supreme Judicial Court (SJC) on Monday, August 29, 2022. The SJC concluded that MIAA's Eligibility Appeal Board (EAB) fully considered all the evidence presented in light of all the factors necessary for a waiver, and subsequently the SJC ruled that the Board's decision was plainly not arbitrary and capricious and should have been upheld. The SJC held that courts reviewing MIAA student eligibility decisions must use the "arbitrary and capricious" standard of review, which allows courts to overrule MIAA decisions only when they lack any rational basis.

This decision was a victory for all MIAA student-athletes who deserve an even playing field. It was an affirmation of the difficult, important work of MIAA educator-volunteers who make rules and decide cases that ensure that high school athletics in Massachusetts are conducted in an equitable and appropriate manner. This ruling validates the MIAA eligibility and appeals process that is conducted by Massachusetts school leaders who volunteer countless hours serving the EAB.

The other role of the MIAC would be to act on all rule change proposals, however, the final vote on all rule change processes would now lie with the MIAA Board of Directors because of their relevant and current nature in the role they represent. The MIAC would now have an advisory vote on the rule change process, while the MIAA Board of Directors would be the final regulatory authority over this process.

This process mirrors a successful transition that was developed by a subcommittee of MIAC and ERB members when reviewing the entire eligibility process. They decided to eliminate the second level of appeal and essentially combined a duplicative process into one rule, with new language. The subcommittee felt that eliminating a level of appeal would create a more consistent and efficient process.

It is my pleasure to inform you that on January 31, 2023, the MIAC voted unanimously (10-0) to replace their current constitution with the following as written (CLICK HERE for updated constitution). In order for this proposal to be successful, members of the Massachusetts Association of School Committees (MASC), the Massachusetts Association of School Superintendents (M.A.S.S.), MIAA Principals/Assistant Principals, and members representing the Massachusetts Secondary School Athletic Directors Association (MSSADA) had to subjugate their egos to do what is in the best interest for the greater good for the long term. Job well done to all of the individuals that looked beyond "what is in it for me" and chose to do what is in the best interest of the membership. That is courageous leadership!

On February 8, the MIAA Board of Directors will have an agenda item entitled Constitutional Revisions. To reiterate, this begins with the MIAA Board of Directors recommending revisions to the legislative body ultimately responsible for voting constitutional revisions, which is the Assembly. We will continue on our quest to codify systems and processes that provide clear roles and responsibilities that lead to consistent implementation for the membership, and consistently apply and act upon these decisions with fidelity.
