An Update from Executive Director Robert Baldwin

Massachusetts Interscholastic Athletic Association

February 16, 2023

Analysis of the Massachusetts Interscholastic Athletic Association

The Analysis of the Massachusetts Interscholastic Athletic Association (CLICK HERE) is an accounting of the actions taken to implement the Executive Director's Plan for Growth and Improvement that was approved one year ago. The Executive Summary describes the components of this complete analysis. At this point in time, we are sharing the portion of this document that was presented to the Board of Directors on February 8, 2023.

The MIAA's Organizational Analysis and the Executive Director's Plan for Growth and Improvement were presented and approved at two consecutive Board of Directors meetings in 2022 (February and March). Concurrently, a House Committee on Post Audit and Oversight Bureau (HPO) Report was conducted throughout the 2021 - 2022 academic year and was issued on July 21, 2022. The proactive undertaking to implement several reforms are consistent with the findings of the report and detailed in The Status Quo is Not An Option.

The Road Forward states the objectives within the Plan for Growth and Improvement that were immediately implemented to guide the utilization of time, personnel, funds and other resources used to drive the Association's core values and beliefs, and priorities. This was conducted in accordance with the FY23 Budget Process.

Within this analysis is a budget presented in a different format, a link to our full financial audit by a third-party financial auditing firm, a link to a description from a recent House Post Audit Oversight (HPO) document fully describing our corporate sponsorship relationship with Teall Properties Group (TPG), and the most current quarterly financial report from TPG. This information will continue to be housed on our web page. In future years, we will utilize and build upon this baseline information and keep it housed on our public website.

Addressing Hate in School Sports Statement from the MIAA and M.A.S.S

We are all deeply troubled by the dis-regulated behaviors that continue to occur in interscholastic athletics, our schools and in our communities. We know you join us in taking very seriously our responsibility to help instill in student athletes a commitment to behaving with the utmost respect and dignity.

Over the past two years in particular, our country has begun a profound reckoning on race and racism. Many of our schools and districts are grappling with these topics and striving to be more diverse, equitable, and inclusive. MASS and the MIAA are committed to engaging deeply in this work, too – so that we can make a difference in eradicating racism and all other forms of bias and hatred.

One of the greatest benefits of interscholastic sports is the opportunity to meet and interact with students from other communities and backgrounds. It is essential that students and adults approach those interactions with respect and civility. We believe we have a significant opportunity to begin placing greater emphasis on some of our other core responsibilities – particularly educational athletics, which includes sportsmanship and diversity, equity, and inclusion.

On December 8, over 400 district leaders (superintendents, principals and athletic directors) participated in the Addressing Hate in School Sports Conference hosted by the Massachusetts Attorney General's Office at the TD Garden. We are ready to initiate the next phase of this comprehensive plan with 13 regional trainings across Massachusetts. The two ½ day trainings will be held on Friday and Saturday dates between March and May of this school year.

To be successful, a district training, comprised of a team of Superintendent, High School Principal, and Athletic Director that lead with one clear message regarding norms and expectations for behavior all sports programs, is imperative. The program delivered by the Northeastern Center for the Study of Sport in Society is designed to help this leadership team be better prepared to set the tone and expectations of your program to prevent incidents of bias, harassment, and discrimination – and to respond effectively to incidents when they do arise.

An email with the link to register for these trainings will be sent to you the week following February vacation. As superintendent for your district, you will be responsible for formally registering up to three district staff - preferably yourself, your High School Principal, and your Athletic Director - for attendance at one regional training. We are grateful for your leadership in encouraging your district's staff to prioritize attendance at these important trainings.

Let's begin the task of eradicating hate and bias to ensure that no one engaged in interscholastic athletics feels disrespected, unsafe, or unwelcome – on or off the playing fields. We believe that a united leadership utilizing the platform of interscholastic athletics can permeate our schools, communities, and society.

“Winning Ways” – an MIAA TV Program Produced by Franklin.TV

High School sporting events are without doubt among the most popular programs covered by your local community TV channel. Now, we at the MIAA are reaching out across Massachusetts with our own TV program, “Winning Ways”, to highlight the great schools, coaches and players that make high school sports - and students - all that they can be.

Each episode will delve into aspects of the MIAA's mission. As we continue to Grow Courageous Leaders, we'll also visit (via Zoom and in-person) with schools, athletic directors, coaches, teams and notable players. Every school has a great story to tell, and we want to highlight those journeys to excellence.

Our episodes will be released by Franklin.TV regularly for download and rebroadcast on your local PEG channel(s) via MMX, the Mass Media Exchange Server. There is absolutely no cost, and we encourage you to contact your local PEG studio to include our program in their broadcast schedule. It can be an informative and inspiring addition, especially before or after school games.

Our first episode of “Winning Ways” is slated for release in Mid-February. We invite you to be featured in a future episode.

Tournament Pairings

During the Fall 2022 season the MIAA launched an effort to streamline the production of the final power rankings, and create a smoother process of building and releasing the tournament brackets. These new guidelines once again will be used by sport tournament directors, seeding committees, and MIAA staff for the Winter 2023 postseason in Boys Basketball, Girls Basketball, Boys Hockey and Girls Hockey.
