

St. John's Preparatory School Student Receives MIAA Student-Athlete of the Month Award February 2023

Rawson Iwanicki – St. John's Preparatory School
Nominated by Manny Costa, Coach

Rawson Iwanicki is a highly successful student-athlete that will be continuing his education at Columbia University next year.

Committed to community service, Rawson volunteers in Andover's Snow Angel program where he shovels snow for senior citizens and also checks on them during the Winter. Involved as a student leader on campus, Rawson also volunteers at Vocal ID where his voice is used for people who need an authentic voice box but cannot talk. Rawson has also transcribed old documents so they can be digitally saved for Smithsonian Digital.

As a wrestler at St. John's Prep, Rawson was 57-0 at the time of his nomination. This year, he became a three-time MIAA Champion and defended his New England Title in the 160 pound weight class. Rawson has also been a Boston Globe and Boston Herald All-Scholastic for 4 years. His athletic prowess and academic achievements (4.17 GPS) have also earned him a four time Academic All-American status.
